ABOUT ME

I am a passionate and ambitious developer currently pursuing my studies at Global Academy (Siam University) in Bangkok. Previously, I studied at the University of Computer Studies, Mandalay, up to my third year. I have hands-on experience as an intern and junior developer at TastySoft Software Company and MIT in Myanmar, where I honed my skills in programming and software development. Energetic and eager to learn, I am always looking to grow by working with experienced professionals. I am actively seeking part-time internship or junior developer roles that align with my university schedule, allowing me to further develop my skills while contributing to meaningful projects.
